“But it’s no use going back to yesterday, because I was a different person then.”
Alice in Wonderland

Lewis Carroll was a master story teller. He used expressive language to make fiction sound like reality while weaving philosophical messages throughout his stories. These profound philosophies make Alice in Wonderland a source of great inspiration.

Like the character Alice, people affected by domestic abuse must make major changes as they embark on their life-changing journey to safety. And like Alice, finding their way to safety is not always easy. But with the help of Family Shelter Service, people have the resources they need to get help. Like our client Lisa, whose son had stopped talking entirely because of the abuse he was witnessing at home, or Emily who nearly lost her life at her husband’s hands before turning to Family Shelter and for Kaitlin who came to us about to give birth and welcomed a new little baby boy while in shelter. Your sponsorship will help these people and many others as they embark on their healing journey.

Family Shelter Service confidential and free services:
